

Uzbeks Ban Valentine's Day

January 24, 2012

The  Moscow Times

ALMATY, Kazakhstan — Uzbek authorities are, apparently, unwilling to give love a chance.

Local media reported Tuesday that Uzbekistan has canceled concerts and other events for Valentine's Day, according to RIA-Novosti. Instead, residents in the capital, Tashkent, can enjoy readings of poems by Mughal emperor Babur, who died in the 16th century.

(AP)

Original url: <https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2012/01/24/uzbeks-ban-valentines-day-a12118>