

Fradkov's Son Could Get Job

By The Moscow Times

August 15, 2012

The  Moscow Times

Pavel Fradkov, the younger son of foreign intelligence chief Mikhail Fradkov, might become a deputy head of the Federal Property Agency, which organizes state asset sales, Kommersant said, citing people familiar with the matter.

Olga Dergunova, a former country head of Microsoft, was appointed to lead the agency in June and is now forming her team, the newspaper said.

(Reuters)

Original url: <https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2012/08/15/fradkovs-son-could-get-job-a17068>