

Today in History, Feb. 14

By The Moscow Times

February 14, 2014

A decree announcing the introduction of the Gregorian calendar. The History of the Calendar in Russia and the U.S.S.R

Ninety-six years ago today, on Feb. 14, 1918, the Gregorian calendar was introduced into Russia. The change took place in February, with the Julian calendar days between Feb. 1 and Feb. 13 being completely wiped from history that year..

Original url: <https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2014/02/14/today-in-history-feb-14-a32093>