

Today in History, April 3

April 03, 2014

81 years ago today, on April 3, 1933, Dr. Yury Voronoy performed the first human kidney transplant in Kherson, now Ukraine. A groundbreaking medical innovation, the operation failed nonetheless because the blood types didn't match.

Original url: <https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2014/04/03/today-in-history-april-3-a33590>