Today in History, June 18

June 18, 2014

133 years ago today, on June 18, 1881, the League of the Three Emperors was renewed. New Russian Emperor Alexander III joined his deceased father's allies on new conditions to have their support in case of a possible conflict with England.

Original url: https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2014/06/18/today-in-history-june-18-36496-a36496