

The Mixed Feelings of Moscow's Venezuela Community About Life Abroad

By Héloïse Bargain

May 18, 2019

The  Moscow Times

According to the United Nations, more than 3.4 million people have fled Venezuela to live abroad in the wake of the country's political and economic crisis. Some of them are living in Russia — which openly supports the government of Nicolas Maduro.

We decided to ask the Venezuelan community in Moscow what they think about what's happening in their country and their life away from home.

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2019/05/18/mixed-feelings-venezuelas-moscow-community-about-life-abroad-a65640>