

Moscow's Iconic Coat of Arms Gets Remixed and Reimagined

September 06, 2019

Moscow's coat of arms contains four main elements: St. George, his horse, his spear and a dragon that's about to get seriously slayed. Contemporary Russian artists have found new meaning in these elements, recreating the historic symbol in new and unexpected ways.

The project, called "Gerb Moskvyy (Moscow coat of arms)," features 33 artists' reimaginings of the symbol that can be seen all over Russia's capital.

Some are funny, some are cute, some are scandalous — but they all elevate the logo to a whole new level.
