

Winning Photos: Russian Talent in the World Press Photo Awards

April 26, 2021

The World Press Photo Foundation has announced the winners of its 2021 competition. The winning pictures are published in an annual yearbook and assembled into a yearlong exhibition that usually visits over 120 cities and 50 countries worldwide, attracting more than 4 million people. Take a look at some of the winning pictures from Russian photographers:

Areg sits outside a burning house in the village of Karegakh, Nagorno-Karabakh. Valery Melnikov / World Press Photo

Original url:

<https://www.themoscowtimes.com/2021/04/26/russian-winners-in-the-world-press-photo-awards-a737>

35